THE ONLY REGIONAL DESIGN FIRM WHO OFFERS IN-HOUSE INTEGRATED PROJECT DESIGN

- A single source for Architecture, Interior Design, Structural, Mechanical, Plumbing and Electrical Engineering services to save you time and expense on new construction and renovation projects.

COMPONENTS OF INTEGRATED PROJECT DESIGN:

- Immediate Owner access to all Team members.
- Immediate and continuous structural, mechanical, electrical insight and feedback during design and construction.
- Integrated mechanical system assessment and selection critical to all sustainable 'Green' projects.
- Shorter design time and schedule control of engineering for on-time drawing completion.
- Cost effective building systems coordination respecting Owner's budget.

BENEFITS TO THE OWNER:

- Coordinated documents result in tight bid ranges and reduced construction time typically.
- Our Integrated Project Design approach typically reduces change order percentages as compared to our competition.
- Integrated design creates a better performing building with greater lifespan.
- Sole source of design responsibility.
- Most important: Less construction cost.

'What most impressed me about you and your firm was how quickly you were able to accommodate the drastic changes to the initial plans...I believe this project was one of the first the County has had which was finished before the deadline.'

*Joleen G. Sullivan, Director
Department of Citizen Services, Carroll County
Drug Treatment Facility*

'Newcomer Associates performed professionally and the communication and coordination with our project teams were excellent. The project was successfully completed on time and under budget with minimal change orders directly related to the architectural and engineering design of the building.'

*James A. Martin, President
Martin's Famous Pastry Shoppe, Inc.*

'Newcomer Associates Inc. has been involved in all aspects of our project planning and implementation work and has successfully delivered these projects within our budget and schedule parameters. They have assisted us with our programming, and provided feasibility studies and full architectural and engineering services. Their personnel work well in a team environment and consistently provided effective coordination. Site services during construction and all aspects of coordination with the General Contractor were well handled.'

*Preston Rivers, Project Manager
National Church of God and Bible College*

NEWCOMER ASSOCIATES

architecture + engineering

FIRM

Newcomer Associates is a full service architectural and engineering firm established in 1980 by Ronald E. Newcomer. Current principals are Jennifer A. Greenlee, A.I.A. LEED AP, Matt J. Runyon, P.E., C.B.O., and T. Kim Jackson, P.E. The Firm is currently registered in numerous states with work primarily involving projects of the following types:

- Hospitality
- Senior Living
- Religious Facilities
- Banks, Offices & Commercial Centers
- Public Projects
- Industrial Facilities and Warehousing
- Medical & Institutional Facilities
- LEED Projects

SERVICES

Newcomer Associates is a single source for architecture, interior design, structural, mechanical, plumbing and electrical engineering services to save your time and expense on new construction and renovation projects. In addition, we have a full-time specification writer and dedicated construction administrators to observe the construction phase, review shop drawings and submittals, and certify contractor's pay requests to be sure our clients get the quality project specified in the contract.

The range of services offered by the Firm include:

- Design and/or Construction Consultation
- Programming
- Master Planning
- Conceptual Estimates
- Renderings
- Schematic Design
- Interior Design
- Structural Engineering
- Mechanical, Electrical and Plumbing Engineering
- Construction Documents
- Bidding Phase Coordination and Oversight
- Construction Administration

When design services are initiated, each project is given careful consideration as to the required program, budget, level of finish, and constructibility. This is done to ensure that each client's needs are met with the highest quality building available within the established budget. Our extensive project experience in design of various building types and methods of construction brings insights and economies to each of our clients' programs and budgets.

Newcomer Associates management is committed to technical excellence and quality service. The Firm is constant in its efforts to upgrade hardware systems, latest software programs and techniques. In-house training programs have been developed for all technical and clerical staff to help them stay current with the latest changes in technology. In addition, our buildings are designed to take advantage of the latest innovations in technology as required for the various building types such as energy management systems, passive solar design, and internal building security. We have the expertise in life-cycle analysis, project scheduling impact, and overall construction knowledge to design value into our clients' projects, as well as assist in pursuit of LEED certification if elected by the client.

Newcomer Associates brings to you the thoughtful integration of artistry, function, and value. It is through proper integration that excellent architecture is achieved.

Newcomer Associates take pride in our listening skills, our common sense approach to design, and the quality of our construction documents. We bring clear, detailed documents and specifications to our clients, and to the contractors. We are complimented about the level and accuracy of the information we provide which results in more accurate and competitive pricing during the bidding process and ultimately, a more satisfied client. Our reputation for satisfied clients is exemplified by the fact that the majority of our work is for repeat clients - in fact, we have completed over 50 projects for one client alone.

Newcomer Associates would like the opportunity to put our services and proven record to work for you. We believe you will find working with us a pleasant experience, and more importantly, you will get a great building for your intended budget.

PRINCIPAL

Jennifer joined Newcomer Associates in 1991. Her primary responsibilities include serving as Project Manager for various project types including religious, educational, senior living, and institutional buildings. Specifically, she aids clients in developing programs and masterplans, and oversees projects from schematic design through the preparation of construction documents. Since joining the firm, Jennifer has worked on over 60 church master plans and building projects through various stages of design. These range from smaller additions and renovations of existing facilities to the phased masterplanning of 234,000 s.f. of new construction. She has also been involved with masterplanning municipal projects incorporating the public in the programming and design process.

Formerly with Bushey Associates of Hagerstown, Maryland, Jennifer has served as Project Architect on correctional, commercial, and educational projects. She also worked for the Kling-Lindquist Partnership in Philadelphia in project design, presentation, and documentation.

Jennifer earned a Bachelor of Environmental Design degree from Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and a Master's Degree in Architecture from the University of Pennsylvania. Her thesis concerned congregational participation in the architectural design process. Jennifer was initially registered in Virginia in 1992 as an Architect and has since received NCARB certification providing reciprocal licensing in many additional states. She is also a member of the Historic Architectural Review Board in Mercersburg, Pennsylvania.

PRINCIPAL Matt has been with Newcomer Associates since 1985. He is responsible for marketing and managing all of the Firm's hospitality projects. In addition he markets and manages senior living and industrial projects for the Firm. He is very well acquainted with many different hotel franchise standards and their design and construction representatives.

Matt has become extremely knowledgeable of all major building codes including the International Building Code, NFPA, Life Safety Code, and the ADA. He has attended numerous seminars and has been involved in proposing and presenting changes to the building code. He is responsible for code analysis on all of the Firm's projects. Matt is a licensed structural engineer and certified building official and member of the following professional organizations:

- ASCE American Society of Civil Engineers
- ICBO International Conference of Building Officials
- NFPA National Fire Protection Association
- AISC American Institute of Steel Construction, Inc.

Matt has a Bachelor's Degree in Structural Design and Construction Engineering Technology (SDCET) from Penn State University. He is a past President and current member of the SDCET Advisory Board and is current Chairman of the Penn State University Harrisburg Campus Civil Engineering Advisory Board. He also spent one year studying architecture at the Frank Lloyd Wright School of Architecture in Scottsdale, Arizona. Matt is a registered Professional Engineer in Pennsylvania.

PRINCIPAL

Kim is a licensed structural engineer practicing since 1994 and joined the Firm in 1995. He has a Bachelor of Architectural Engineering with Structural Emphasis from Penn State University.

Kim is the head of our structural department. He oversees or designs all building structural systems. His experience includes work on post-tensioned precast concrete, steel frame, masonry, and wood frame structures. In addition to buildings, Kim has experience in bridge and retaining wall design.

Since joining Newcomer Associates, Kim has designed and detailed load bearing masonry structural systems for hotels and various private assisted living residences. He has incorporated timber framed arched roof designs for church projects and performed structural steel designs for churches, banks, manufacturing facilities, and hotels.

Kim has also designed multi-story load-bearing masonry structures with pre-stressed hollow core pre-cast concrete plank floor systems. The building designs were governed by seismic forces according to the current IBC code.

Kim also has experience with AutoCad and uses RISA 3D for all structural engineering analysis. He has developed various Excel spreadsheets for masonry wall stiffness analysis, composite steel beam design, timber frame design, and for many other structural elements.

Kim is registered in numerous states and is a member of NCEES which enables licensure in 48 states.

Kim is a member of AISC and NSPE.
